Two life-size bobble heads of the 2016 presidential nominees are hitting the campaign trail!

Youngstown, Ohio, is on the cutting edge of 3D printing technology -- a technology that is revolutionizing today's manufacturing industry. Youngstown is home to America Makes, the first hub of innovation designated by the federal government.

The Youngstown/Warren Regional Chamber has partnered with Freshmade 3D, Humtown Products and Youngstown State University to create a first of its kind display at the Republican National Convention: the 3D Printed Prez project. These unique, life-size bobble heads of the 2016 presidential nominees will draw attention to the advanced manufacturing capabilities of Youngstown.
