

Tuesday, June 15, 2021

WALNUT CREEK, Ohio – Humtown Products and its president, Mark Lamoncha, are the recipients of the Small Manufacturer Excellence Award presented by the Eastern Ohio Development Alliance.

Lamoncha was honored at the alliance’s annual meeting held here June 11. EODA is nonpartisan organization that promotes the economic development of the 16-county region Humtown was nominated for the award by the Columbiana County Port Authority. The company, with manufacturing facilities in Columbiana and Leetonia, has become a leader in the 3D printing industry, says Penny Traina, executive director of the port authority.

In October 2020, the National Association of Manufacturers named Humtown its Manufacturer of the Year in the small- to medium enterprise category.

Pictured at top, from left: Matt Abbott, president of EODA; Mark Lamoncha, president of Humtown Products; Penny Traina, executive director of the Columbiana County Port Authority; Bobby Ritchie, private sector group specialist for the CCPA; and Todd Shelton, director of regional public affairs for the National Association of Manufacturers.

https://businessjournaldaily.com/eastern-ohio-development-alliance-honors-humtown-products/?utm_source=Youngstown+Publishing+Company&utm_campaign=ed85e76e44-EMAIL_CAMPAIGN_10_8_2020_10_1_COPY_01&utm_medium=email&utm_term=0_d70048470c-ed85e76e44-384171491